Teach Alliance Terms and Conditions

Introduction

These terms and conditions govern the relationship between you, the User of this Website (including any sub-domains, unless excluded by their own terms and conditions), and Teach Alliance, the owner and operator of this Website. Please review these terms and conditions carefully, as they impact your legal rights. Your acceptance of and compliance with these terms and conditions are assumed upon your initial use of the Website. If you do not agree with these terms and conditions, please refrain from using the Website immediately.

In these terms and conditions, User or Users refers to any third party accessing the Website who is not either (i) employed by Teach Alliance and acting within their employment capacity or (ii) engaged as a consultant or service provider to Teach Alliance, accessing the Website in connection with the provision of such services.

You must be at least 18 years old to use this Website. By accessing and agreeing to these terms and conditions, you confirm and guarantee that you are at least 18 years old.

Intellectual Property and Acceptable Use

All Content featured on the Website, unless uploaded by Users, is the property of Teach Alliance, its affiliates, or other relevant third parties. Content refers to any text, graphics, images, audio, video, software, data compilations, page layout, underlying code, and software, as well as any other form of information capable of being stored in a computer, appearing on or forming part of this Website, including any content uploaded by Users. By continuing to use the Website, you acknowledge that such Content is protected by copyright, trademarks, database rights, and other intellectual property rights. No part of this site shall be construed as granting, by implication, estoppel, or otherwise, any license or right to use any trademark, logo, or service mark displayed on the site without the prior written permission of Teach Alliance.

For your personal, non-commercial use only, you may:

Retrieve, display, and view the Content on a computer screen.

You must not reproduce, modify, copy, distribute, or use any Content for commercial purposes without the written permission of Teach Alliance.

You acknowledge that you are responsible for any Content you submit via the Website, including its legality, reliability, appropriateness, originality, and copyright. You may not upload to, distribute, or publish through the Website any Content that:

Is confidential, proprietary, false, fraudulent, libelous, defamatory, obscene, threatening, invasive of privacy or publicity rights, infringing on intellectual property rights, abusive, illegal, or otherwise objectionable.

May constitute or encourage a criminal offense, violate the rights of any party, or otherwise give rise to liability or violate any law.

May contain software viruses, political campaigning, chain letters, mass mailings, or any form of "spam".

You may not use a false email address or other identifying information, impersonate any person or entity, or mislead as to the origin of any content. Commercial content is not permitted on the Website.

You represent and warrant that you own or control all rights to the Content you post; that the Content is accurate; that use of the Content you supply does not violate any provision of these terms and conditions and will not cause injury to any person; and that you will indemnify Teach Alliance for all claims resulting from Content you supply.

Prohibited Use

The Website may not be used for any of the following purposes:

Causing damage to the Website or interfering with any other person's use or enjoyment of the Website;

Engaging in harmful, unlawful, illegal, abusive, harassing, threatening, or otherwise objectionable behaviour or activities in breach of any applicable law, regulation, or governmental order;

Making, transmitting, or storing electronic copies of Content protected by copyright without the permission of the owner.

Registration

You must ensure that the details provided by you on registration or at any time are correct and complete.

You must promptly inform us of any changes to the information provided when registering by updating your personal details to ensure effective communication.

We reserve the right to suspend or cancel your registration immediately for any reasonable purpose or if you breach these terms and conditions.

You may cancel your registration at any time by notifying us in writing at the address provided at the end of these terms and conditions. Upon cancellation, you must cease using the Website. Cancellation or suspension of your registration does not affect any statutory rights.

Links to Other Websites

This Website may include links to other sites. Unless expressly stated, these sites are not under the control of Teach Alliance or our affiliates.

We assume no responsibility for the content of such Websites and disclaim liability for any and all forms of loss or damage arising from their use.

Inclusion of a link to another site on this Website does not imply endorsement of the sites or those in control of them.

Privacy Policy and Cookies Policy

Use of the Website is subject to our Privacy Policy and Cookies Policy, which are incorporated into these terms and conditions by reference. To review the Privacy Policy and Cookies Policy, please visit this page.

Availability of the Website and Disclaimers

Any online facilities, tools, services, or information provided by Teach Alliance through the Website (the Service) are provided "as is" and on an "as available" basis. We provide no warranty that the Service will be free of defects and/or faults. To the maximum extent permitted by law, we provide no warranties (express or implied) of fitness for a particular purpose, accuracy of information, compatibility, and satisfactory quality. Teach Alliance is not obligated to update information on the Website.

While we strive to ensure the Website's security and freedom from errors, viruses, and other malware, we provide no warranty or guarantee in this regard. All Users are responsible for their own security, personal details, and computers.

Teach Alliance accepts no liability for any disruption or unavailability of the Website.

Teach Alliance reserves the right to alter, suspend, or discontinue any part or the whole of the Website, including any products and/or services available. These terms and conditions shall continue to apply to any modified version of the Website unless expressly stated otherwise.

Limitation of Liability

Nothing in these terms and conditions will limit or exclude our or your liability for death or personal injury resulting from our or your negligence, fraud, or fraudulent misrepresentation, or any other liabilities not permitted to be excluded under applicable law.

We will not be liable for any losses arising out of events beyond our reasonable control.

To the maximum extent permitted by law, Teach Alliance accepts no liability for any of the following:

Business losses, such as loss of profits, income, revenue, anticipated savings, business, contracts, goodwill, or commercial opportunities;

Loss or corruption of data, database, or software;

Any special, indirect, or consequential loss or damage.

General

You may not transfer any of your rights under these terms and conditions to any other person. We may transfer our rights under these terms and conditions where we reasonably believe it will not affect your rights.

These terms and conditions may be revised by us from time to time. Such revised terms will apply to the Website from the date of publication. Users should regularly review the terms and conditions to stay familiar with the current version.

These terms and conditions, along with the Privacy Policy and Cookies Policy, constitute the entire agreement between the parties concerning their subject matter and supersede all prior discussions, arrangements, or agreements.

The Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999 does not apply to these terms and conditions, and no third party will have any right to enforce or rely on any provision of these terms and conditions.
